Discover your State.
Only three percent of adults have career-boosting professional certifications – you can be one of them. And you can earn a graduate business certificate quickly and affordably – all while meeting Colorado CPA licensure requirements including coursework in advanced auditing and accounting ethics.

Courses, offered in a convenient online format, are taught by College of Business Department of Accounting professors, and are designed to increase students’ expertise and marketability. Students gain an edge over the competition by studying accounting ethics, forensic accounting, fraud auditing, and leading best practice information technologies used in organizational accounting systems worldwide.

Curriculum. (9 Credits)
- Professional Ethics and Responsibilities, ACT540
- Forensic Accounting and Fraud Auditing, ACT541
- Accounting Information Technologies, ACT550

Learn more.
Admission requirements include a bachelor’s degree in any field and at least a 3.0 GPA. The Accounting Ethics and Auditing Certificate tuition is $793 per credit hour for students starting in Fall 2016*. You may be eligible for financial assistance through GI benefits, corporate tuition discounts, loans, and grants. Email cobgradinfo@colostate.edu for additional information or to learn how to apply.

*Additional University fees may apply. Colorado State University reserves the right to change tuition rates without notice. Tuition rates are subject to increase on an annual basis. All prices refer to U.S. currency. Additional prerequisite coursework may be required.